xxxxxx Numb. 3883.

The Daily Courant.

Monday, August 3. 1713.

London, August 3.

On Saturday arrived the Mail due from Holland.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Aug. 5.

Madrid July 17.

A Courier dispatched from Aytona on the Segra by the Duke de Popoli arrived here to Day, with Letters for the King, advising, that in an Assembly of the three States of Catalonia held at Barcelona, the Clergy and the greatest part of the Nobles and Burgesses voted for submitting to the King's Obedience: But that the Deputy of Manresa, named Sinos, and some others, had perswaded the Populace to defend themselves till the Preservation of their Privileges were granted them: That thereupon they proclaimed War with sound of Drums and Trumpets against France and Spain, and nominated Chiefs to command them. The 13th arrived a Courier from Tarragona, with very respectful Letters from the Archbishop and the Clergy, assuring the King that they were ready to submit to his Obedience. We learn since, that the Rebels being informed of it, sent General Nebot with 80 Horse, to oblige the People of the Plain of Tarragona to take Arms: But that on the contrary they turned their Arms against him, and took several of his Men Prisoners; and that the Rebels had no better Success at Ostalric. This Evening we have an Account by another Courier from Tarragona, that the Troops entred that Town the 13th, and were received by the Inhabitants with Acclamations of long live King Philip V. We knew before that the Duke de Popoli had detached on the 6th the Marquis de Lede, with 6 Battallions, to approach Tarragona: That he had caused the Marquis de Ceva-Grimaldi to advance with another Body from Cervera towards Martorel on the Llobregat; and that he was to follow the 14th with the rest of the Army to approach Barcelona. Count Statemberg was imbarked and sailed with the German Troops, except 4000 Palatines, from whom the Rebels had taken the Vessels which were to transport them, and those Palatines had encamped and intrenched themselves on the Sea-Side, waiting for another Opportunity to be gone.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Aug. 5.

From the Camp before Landau, July 23. After the third Parallel was finished, Saps were carried on towards the four Lunettes which cover the Front of the Place. The 17th one of those Saps was advanced to the Covered-Way of the Lunette on the Right. The Marshal de Bezons going into the Trenches, ordered that Sap to be continued, and that if the Enemy should Sally out of the Lunette, no more than 20 Grenadiers should oppose them. Notwithstanding this Order, some of the Enemy having advanced out of the Lunette, were charged by five Companies of Navarre and three Piquets of the Regiment of Medoc, who repulsed them and lodged themselves on the two Saliant Angles of the Covered-Way of the Lunette. But being exposed to the Fire from the Place and from the four Lunettes, 11 Officers and 130 Soldiers were killed or wounded. The Prince de Talmont who commanded that Day in the Trenches, received a Contusion by a Gabion that was beaten down upon him. The Night between the 18th and 19th a great Fire was perceived in the Town, and we learnt the next Day by a Deserter, that the Arsenal was burnt, with 15000 Muskquets and all the Stores of Carriages for the Artillery. The 20th in the Morning 9 Batteries of 4 Cannon each began to fire to make Breaches in the four Lunettes. The Artillery plays incessantly, so that there are already considerable Breaches in the Counterguards, and all the Cannon of the Besieged are dismounted, except four or five, which fire still. The Saps are continued, and within a Day or two the four Lunettes will be attacked. When they are taken the Place will be battered by 70 Cannon, 40 Mortars for Bombs, and 20 Mortars for Stones. The Besieged often spring Mines, most of them without Execution, except one Yesterday Morning, which buried 50 Workmen, of whom the greatest Part were dug out. However there have not at most above 1200 Men been killed or wounded since the beginning of the Siege, whereas a Deserter who came over this Morning assures us that there are 2000 Men killed or wounded in the Place. The Marshal de Villars came into this Camp Yesterday, with the Duke of Bourbon, the Prince of Conti, and 25 Companies of Grenadiers for the Attack which is preparing. We have Advice from the Enemy's Army, that Prince Eugene having left 40000 Men to guard his Lines, is come over and encamped on this Side of the Rhine with 20000 Men near Mentz which is in his Rear, his Right being covered by the Rhine, his Left by a Rivulet, and his Front by a double Intrenchment; yet we do not see any one Party of his Men appear.

From the Paris Letter, dated Aug. 4.

Paris, Aug. 4. Letters from Girone of the 20th tell us the Chiefs of the Rebels continued to rove about the Country, to endeavour to incite the People to defend themselves; but the Principal Catalonians having resolved to submit to the King's Obedience, and his Catholick Majesty's Troops who were already possessed of divers Posts, being to enter Barcelona the 20th, 'tis not doubted the Party of the Rebels will soon be dispersed. Letters from the Camp before Landau of the 27th past advise, that the Trench was finished which surrounds the 2 Lunettes on the Right, one of which Lunettes our Men were Masters of, but durst not yet lodge themselves there for fear of Mines. The Night between the 25th and 26th the Enemy turned two Foot Water into that Trench, which a little incommoded us; but Means were found to let that Water run off, by taking the Mill of Quencheim whence the Water came; and the 27th it was fallen a Foot and a Half in three Hours. Deserters reported, that our Bombs having set the Hospital of the Town on Fire, 7 or 800 wounded Men who were in it were burnt or suffocated; and that Prince Alexander of Wirtemberg, who is almost always under the Shelter of vaulted Works, reckons to hold out to the 25th of this Month. But the Marshal de Villars reckons otherwise, and proposes to be ready to give a general Assault on the Place the 12th or 13th at furthest, when he will Summon the Governour to yield himself Prisoner with his Garrison, without any other Capitulation.

tulation. The Prince de Talmont is almoſt cured of his Bruiſe, and the Marquis de Biron is out of Danger; but we have loſt M. de Villars Major of the Regiment de la Marine, and M. Villiers an able Ingenier. Prince Eugene has at length paſſed the Rhine, but ſlaces not yet ſtir faſt: He gives out ſtill, that aſſoon as the reſt of the Troops which are to joyn him are arrived, he will attempt the Relief of Landau: But 'twill be very much for him to do, if he can hinder the Marſhal de Villars from undertaking another Siege after the taking of that Place. Laſt Week a great Council was held at Court, at which the Marſhal d'Huxelles aſſiſted, and 'tis ſaid to have been upon a Project of Importance ſent by the Marſhal de Villars. The King of Spain ſent laſt Month to the Marſhal de Villars the Order of the Golden Fleece, with a Diamond of great Value, in Conſideration of the great Services which he has rendred to the two Crowns, and his Catholick Majeſty wrote him a very obliging Letter. Laſt Month Prince Ragotzki bought at Vilpreux within 6 Leagues of Paris, a very fine Country-Seat that coſt him 100000 Crowns. For almoſt 2 Months paſt we have had continual Rains in this Country, while from divers Provinces of France 'tis adviſed (even from within 12 or 15 Leagues of Paris) that they have been obliged to make publick Prayers for Rain.

It appears by all the Advices from Germany in the Dutch Prints, that to the 2d of Auguſt Prince Eugene had not made any Motion at all to paſs the Rhine.

From the Hague Courant, dated Aug. 9.

Hague, Aug. 8. Here are private Letters from the Upper Rhine, adviſing, that the Prince of Bourbon (who the 14th of laſt Month, two Days after his Marriage with the Princeſs of Conti, went away to the French Army to ſerve as a Volunteer in the Siege of Landau) being in the Trenches to ſee the Manner of carrying them on, was ſhot dead by a Ball from the Town.
